Rain or shine, PFP families camp with pride!

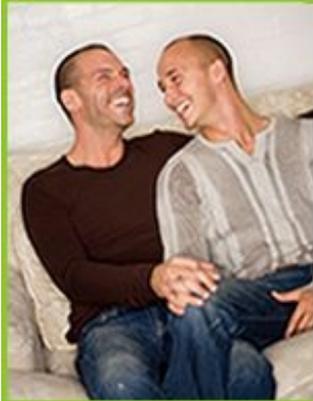

Thirteen PFP families found their way to Elk Neck State Park the weekend of August 19-21 for PFP's Camping with Pride 4. After a rainy start on Friday, the campers were rewarded with a beautiful day Saturday.

The group spent time crabbing and swimming during the day. Saturday night was a feast of amazing food at the potluck dinner. While the kids made animal masks of local wildlife and ran around the camp site, the parents had a chance to just kick back and relax.

Rain sent many home early Sunday, but some families waited it out. Families of deer spent the weekend around the campsite and bald eagles soared overhead. All in all it was a blast. Thanks to all the families that made this a great PFP event. We're already looking forward to next year and Camping with Pride 5!

Family Matters Conference Registration Open

The 2nd Annual PFP Family Matters Conference is set for Saturday, October 15 in the beautiful University Center at Widener University. The conference cosponsors are Widener's Center for Social Work Education and the Graduate Program in Human Sexuality.

There will be 17 workshops, a panel of teens with LGBTQ parents, and informal networking time -- all for LGBTQ parents and prospective parents.

We'll also have programming, activities and child care on-site for kids 3 and up and a visit from the Philadelphia Freedom Band!

Here's a taste of the workshop schedule. (View the complete schedule on our web site.)

For current LGBTQ parents:

- Pink, Blue or Green? A discussion about raising healthy gender nonconforming kids in a pink and blue world.
- What Does Saying "I Do!" Mean for You? Relationship Recognition and the Legal Confusion over Marriage, Civil Unions and Domestic Partnerships
- In the Spotlight: The pressure to be a model LGBT family

For prospective parents:

- Dos and Don'ts of Donor Insemination
- Babymaking in the 21st Century: Assisted Reproduction Options
- Adoption Options

For the transgender community:

- Talking About Transition
- Transgender Legal Issues

For the whole family:

- Stress Relief with yoga and meditation
- Ask a Pediatrician
- Bang Your Drum! A Percussion Workshop

Board Member Profile: Marla McCulloch

PFP Board Member Marla McCulloch (second from right) is the proud mom of three very active children and partner to Jenn Santisi. They live in Media and first joined PFP in 2005.

Marla is a professor of social work and psychology and teaches at both West Chester University and Widener University.

"We joined PFP so that our kids could see more multi-racial, adoptive families. We continue to be a part of PFP because we feel supported as a whole family. And, PFP does fun stuff," Marla said.

Their favorite PFP events are the New Year's Brunch, the camping trips, the hikes and the summer picnic. Marla and Jenn took Michaela to the summer picnic the day after she came home as a 9 month-old baby.

Marla is now the Education Committee Chair for PFP and coordinator of the upcoming Family Matters Conference.

"I hope that folks find the conference to be educational and supportive, but mostly a chance to make some new friends, deepen relationships and have a ton of fun as a whole family."

Thanks, Marla, for all your hard work for PFP!
